Patrick Coughlin is a Partner in the Firm's Insurance and Reinsurance Services Group.

He concentrates his practice on complex insurance and reinsurance coverage litigation and counseling. Patrick represents domestic and international insurers in a wide range of insurance coverage disputes arising under commercial general liability, directors and officers, cyber, professional liability, mortgageholders' liability, workers' compensation and product recall policies, among others. He has extensive experience advising clients on claims handling issues and strategy in both litigated and non-litigated matters, including coverage disputes involving products liability, mass tort, construction defect, securities litigation, personal injury, professional liability and long-tail asbestos and pollution claims. He also counsels both ceding companies and reinsurers in connection with reinsurance claims and arbitrations in jurisdictions throughout the United States and internationally. In the commercial area, Patrick represents both U.S. and European clients in disputes arising out of commercial transactions and product sales.

Prior to joining Coughlin Midlige & Garland, served as a Law Clerk to the Honorable Jerome M. St. John, J.A.D. (ret.).
